

Happiness Assessment

From Don't Stop Now: Making the Most of the Rest of Your Life
Jan Fishler & Elle Gianforte

This assessment addresses areas of your life that contribute to your overall happiness. Think about each statement and then rate it on a scale of 1 to 10. A rating of 1 means “This isn’t even remotely true” and 10 means “OMG! It’s like you know me!” The numbers you choose are indicators of your emotional and physical state, and they may vary a bit from day to day. For now, choose the number that best reflects your feelings when you take the assessment.

You might be pleasantly surprised at how much you’ve accomplished and how good you feel about your life.

The goal of this assessment is to identify areas where you can make improvements. By completing the assessments with an honesty that is usually reserved for a wine-fueled evening with your best friend, you just might emerge with a clearer picture of your life, where it seems to be headed, and whether you want to shift course. If all your assessments on a specific topic are in the 9 to 10 range, clearly you are a rock star in that arena of your life. If you fall at the lower or middle end of the spectrum, there’s work that can be done to make your situation better. It’s completely up to you.
